

politics will go on until we have a law that will compel Republican leaders to open their books and let the people know what is going on.

Mr. Bryan charged that the United States Senate was the bulwark of predatory wealth, and favor-seeking corporations had controlled the actions of Senators, who were chosen to represent the people.

He asserted that Mr. Taft had not attacked a single trust, because, he said, every trust magnate was supporting him, and out of the funds the Republicans are preparing to buy every vote that can be bought.

Mr. Bryan vehemently declared that the Republican party was going back to the old policy of favoring the trusts instead of forward with respect to labor. He characterized the promise of a revision of the tariff as an attempt to perpetrate a fraud on the people.

He Preaches Justice.

ROME, N. Y., October 29.—"They are talking prosperity and the papers tell us that they are going to have a great big parade in New York City next Saturday night. They are going to have red fire, they are going to have illuminations; they are going to have bands, and when I was in New York I saw them building grandstands along the route for the people who will watch the parade. Why don't they take the money and furnish lodgings at night for the hundreds of men whom I saw sleeping on the benches in the park? I had occasion to ride down Broadway two nights, one time at 2 o'clock and another time at 4 o'clock in the morning, and there were not less than 300 men sleeping in one park on benches, and they were protecting themselves from the cold by their newspapers around their limbs, and while these men have not the money with which to buy lodging, the Republican party is pouring out its money from its campaign fund on red fire, in order to prove that it is the party of prosperity."

This was the way William J. Bryan concluded his speech at this place to-day, after denouncing Mr. Taft for threatening a panic in case of his election, and in order to show that a panic was now upon the country.

Mr. Bryan's theme was justice, and he said that the Democratic party presented a larger hope of justice in government than did the Republican party. For this reason, he said, he had a right to expect a majority of the votes of the American people.

In Sherman's Home.

UTICA, N. Y., October 29.—Paying a visit to Utica, the home of James S. Sherman, Republican vice-presidential nominee, William J. Bryan, the Democratic candidate for President, got a great demonstration.

"It was one of the best meetings of the campaign," he said. The Opera House, where he spoke, was inadequate to accommodate the crowd which seemed to hear him, and he made an overflow talk to double the number outside. Mr. Bryan discussed the issues of the campaign generally, and put to a vote several of the questions embraced in the Democratic platform. These included publicly before election of campaign contributions, election of Senators by the people and a labor representative in the Cabinet. No hand was raised when he asked if there was any one present who believed the propositions laid down in the Republican platform were right. "I will ask," said he, "the newspaper men traveling with me to send out to the country the fact that the home of Candidate Sherman doesn't endorse the action of the Republican National Convention. Isn't it a great condemnation of that convention?" he remarked, "which so outrageously misrepresented the sentiment of the people, both Republicans and Democrats."

KERN IN INDIANA

Vice-Presidential Candidate Whoops Things Up in His Own State.

TERRE HAUTE, IND., October 29.—Two rousing meetings in this city to-night brought the fourth day of John W. Kern's Indiana campaign to a whirlwind finish. Previously he addressed a big crowd of miners and laboring men at Brazil. The three audiences were the largest he has spoken to since he entered upon his canvass of the State of Monday.

Setting out from Indianapolis at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, the vice-presidential nominee spoke at Rockville, Mecca, Clinton and Sullivan. His itinerary provided only for a speaking tour, no time allowance having been made seemingly for meal hours. In consequence, the candidate took his noon meal from a lunch-basket while whirling along over a dusty road in an automobile between Rockville and Clinton.

Supper for the party was served on board the special car en route from Brazil to this city.

The meetings here were preceded by a street parade, with bands and much red fire. The first at which Mr. Kern spoke was in Young's Theatre. The building would not hold the crowd and an overflow meeting was held in front of county courthouse. To audience Mr. Kern spoke briefly, but his voice was very husky.

Republicans Have Vast Sums.

He prefaced at to indoor meeting on oppression by the money power by declaring that a leading Republican newspaper through a special correspondent admitted that "vast sums of money have been poured into the Republican campaign fund in the past few weeks by the great banking and trust interests, and by law-defying corporations, to represent the sentiment of the people, both Republicans and Democrats."

NOT IN POLITICS

Cardinal Gibbons Says Catholics Are Free to Vote as They Please.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 29.—National Committee man Newman, of the District of Columbia, related to-night a recent controversy he had with Cardinal Gibbons as important as indicating the attitude of the Catholic Church in the present presidential campaign.

"Cardinal Gibbons stated," said Mr. Newman, "that he made it a rule not to discuss party politics in a public manner nor to disclose his own preference for this or that candidate for office. To do so, he said, would possibly expose him and the Catholic Church to undeserved criticism."

"The church does not attempt to control the political views or political conduct of its members," said the cardinal. "In the United States Catholics are to be found in all political parties, and each member of the church is free to think and vote as he pleases on political and economical questions. Any attempt to bring the church into the political arena, or to make it the champion or opponent of any candidate or party, does it a grave injustice."

STRAUS REPEATS CHARGES

Ready to Prove Republicans Have Slid- ing Tax Scale and Deeds Them.

NEW YORK, October 29.—The charge recently made by Nathan Straus, president of the Business Men's Democratic League, and subsequently denied by Treasurer Sheldon, of the Republican National Committee, that Wall Street men are being assessed $500,000 by the Republican committee, was reiterated by Mr. Straus in a speech before the Commercial Travelers' League to-day.

He declared the Republicans in New York this year "have the largest corruption fund they ever had." He said he was ready to prove that statement.

"I am ready to prove now that they have levied a tax of $500,000," said Mr. Straus, "but that they have a sliding scale, which runs up to $5,000, and I am ready to prove this, and the members won't dare print what I say here."

"I declare here and now that the corruption fund to be used this year in New York is as big as the one of four years ago. They won't make a public record of the contributions because they say it is for legitimate public use. They are using every unfair means to defeat Bryan."

"I defy them. I defy the Republican party."

Monnett Predicts Victory.

CHICAGO, October 29.—Frank S. Monnett, former Attorney-General of Ohio, arrived in Chicago to-day from the West, where he has been speaking in behalf of Mr. Bryan. At Democratic headquarters he predicted a general victory for Bryan and Mr. Monnett left in the "Dunkirk" N. Y. He is to speak in Baltimore to-morrow night, and in New York on Saturday.

Gompers to Speak.

NEW YORK, October 29.—A mass-meeting of laboring men will be held Sunday at the Grand Central Palace, and Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, will make the principal address. Gompers, it is announced, will attack the position of President Roosevelt in the present campaign and Mr. Taft's attitude on labor matters. Other prominent labor leaders will also speak.

Republican Forecasts

Some Tall Claims Made, but Chairman Hitchcock Not Yet Ready.

NEW YORK, October 29.—Representative Henry C. Lodge, of New Jersey, secretary of the National Republican Congressional Committee, who had been in charge of the New York headquarters of the committee during the campaign, to-day gave out his estimates of the complexion of the national House of Representatives in the Sixty-first Congress.

"I am convinced," he said, "that a conservative estimate of the present complexion of the next House is that it will contain 227 Republicans and 161 Democrats."

"I am confident that election results will give an increase in the number of Republicans rather than a decrease."

Chairman Hitchcock, of the Republican National Committee, said late to-day that he probably would give out his forecast of the electoral vote to-morrow. He said that the statement would include doubtful votes as well as the certain States for both parties.

Mr. Hitchcock is still of the opinion that Nevada would be very close, but he is quite confident of Montana. Information from leaders in Kentucky and Tennessee is to the effect that the State of Kentucky will vote for a fighting chance in these two States. While he feels sure about Maryland, he thinks the fight will be close there.

At the Republican national headquarters to-day.

Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts: "New England will go solidly for Taft. New York State will give a majority for Taft and Hughes."

Secretary of Commerce and Labor: "New York State will go for Taft and Hughes safe."

Former Governor Murphy, of New Jersey: "It is a question of majority only for Taft in New Jersey."

Chairman Woodworth of Republican State Committee: "Taft will carry the State by over 125,000 and Hughes by 75,000."

Injunction Refused.

HOUSTON, TEX., October 29.—Judge Kittrell, of the District Court, to-day refused to grant an injunction sought by the State to prevent 1,500 voters in Webb county, whose poll tax receipts were alleged to be false, from voting in the election of November 3, from voting Tuesday. The plaintiff claims the right of appeal, and claims that the application for an injunction cannot be set aside till the appellate court acts.

Mr. Root in Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., October 29.—Secretary of State Root arrived here this evening at 7 o'clock. He came unexpectedly and entered the Boddy House unheralded. Escorted by the Rail Splitters, Van Doren's Band and two drum corps, the secretary drove to the Valentine Theatre, where a crowded house awaited him.

"We are just recovering from the Wall Street panic of last fall," said the secretary, "and no one is more interested in that recovery than labor. The election of Bryan will stop the trend toward prosperity. The election of Taft will bring the full tide of prosperity, and the factory doors will again swing open to labor."

Cannot Be Misrepresented.

WASHINGTON, October 29.—Representing efforts to use the United States War Veterans organization for political purposes, Commander-in-Chief Charles W. Newton, of that body, in a letter received to-day by J. Walter Mitchell, the national historian, declared that the organization cannot be misrepresented in a matter of such vital importance. The letter grows out of reports to the organization of a league of veterans to support one of the party candidates.

CONTEMPT PROCEEDINGS

Testimony in the Gompers and Mitchell Cases Was Concluded Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 29.—The taking of testimony in the case of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Frank Mitchell, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, for alleged contempt of court growth out of suit for injunction brought by the Bucks Stove and Range Company, of St. Louis, Mo., was concluded to-day before an examiner.

The privilege of submitting of testimony for the defense was waived for the present until the case is called for final hearing before Justice Wright to-morrow.

Hearst Arrivals Both Old Parties for Their Positions Toward Labor.

NEW YORK, October 29.—Comments directed to workmen and trades unionists, arraigning the Republican and Democratic parties, made up a speech delivered by William Randolph Hearst in Cooper Union to-night for the Independence party.

Letters from John D. Archibald, of the Standard Oil Company, to the late William J. Sewell, United States Senator from New Jersey, bearing on that Mr. Hearst called for the interference of Representative John D. Gardner, of New Jersey, chairman of the House Committee on Labor, to the demands being made by the Standard Oil Company, were read by him, which, he explained, were written by H. D. King, editor of the National Democratic Committee, to D. M. Parry, president of the Manufacturers' Association, and to John Maxwell, secretary to Mr. Parry, respectively.

Mr. Hearst said that the letters to Mr. Parry congratulated him upon his reelection as president of the Manufacturers' Association, and that the adoption by the association's convention of Mr. Parry's anti-labor policies. The letters to Mr. Maxwell, Mr. Hearst said, were a preliminary report of the Manufacturers' Association against the eight-hour day Congress.

Reads Letters.

The letters from Mr. Archibald to Senator Sewell follow:

"25 Broadway, December 20, 1899. 'Hon. Wm. J. Sewell, Senate Chamber, Washington, D. C.'

"My Dear Senator,—We are informed that it is the purpose of the Industrial Commission which has been taking testimony for a period of several months regarding industrial corporations, to submit a preliminary report on an early day to Congress, which will probably serve as a text for discussion there."

"It seems very important that this report should be wisely and conservatively shaped. Representative John D. Gardner, of New Jersey, is a member of that commission. I think it very desirable indeed, that you should have a word with him on the subject, and that you should tell him what we know of him and coming from the locality he does that he will treat the subject judicially and sensibly, but as a member of the commission, he is as sure as possible."

"Trusting you can find an opportunity of speaking with him on the subject, and with kind regards, I am, 'Very truly yours,'

"JOHN D. ARCHIBOLD."

"25 Broadway, Oct. 12, 1900. 'To the Hon. W. J. Sewell, Camden, N. J.'

"My Dear Senator,—I have your kind favor of yesterday, and beg to thank you very sincerely for your prompt attention to the matter. I hope it will be possible for you to come in some time with Mr. Gardner, if that is not possible, will be greatly pleased to see him at any time, as suggested. 'Very truly yours,'

"JOHN D. ARCHIBOLD."

Attacks Lamb.

Mr. Hearst made an attack upon John E. Lamb, vice-chairman of the Democratic National Committee, and read what he said were sworn affidavits in support of his charge. He said in part:

"In the place of Mr. Haskell as treasurer the Democracy has appointed Mr. Rider, who is almost as hostile to union labor as Mr. Haskell was. But that is not all. Mr. Lamb, who is chairman of the national committee, second only in importance to Mr. Mack himself, is a strike-breaking agent and attorney for street railway corporations, and he broke the back and destroyed the organization of the street railway union in Terre Haute, Ind., exactly as Belmont and Mr. Farley broke the back and destroyed the organization of the street railway men's union of New York City."

"I make no statements that I have not the legal evidence to prove." Here Mr. Hearst read an affidavit by John E. Hagerty, who was treasurer of the Central Labor Union of the city of Terre Haute.

RENOUNCES HEARST

Independence Party Committeeman Has Been Sufficiently 'Shown.'

SPASARTY, MO., October 29.—Giving up all hope of his reasons a desire not to have his name connected with any party or person who purchased or otherwise obtained correspondence stolen by other persons for publication, to the detriment or downfall of other persons for the rebuilding of your self or the Independence party," J. L. Woods Merrill, of Kansas City, in a letter to-day to William R. Hearst, national chairman, notified the latter of his resignation as national committeeman for Missouri of the Independence party. Continuing, he says:

"Also, I do not wish my name connected with a party whose affiliations are so closely connected with other parties and whose only aim is to help defeat Bryan. Taft wanted Foraker put out of business, and you played the part of 'remover,' and with a grandstand play to keep up appearances, went after Haskell, with no proof of guilt, to down Bryan, and, in my belief, the Independence party receives its campaign money from Republican sources. I was led to believe the Independence party's platform was to advocate the principles of Jefferson and Lincoln, and to build up from the better class from all parties and stand for the best interests of the people. I am not a member of the party, and I do not affiliate with nor favor any party."

Mr. Merrill asserts that the Independence party has not kept these promises, and adds:

"Bryan and Standard Oil have been its only campaign issue."

A Word from Mr. Bryan

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Lincoln Neb

Oct 20-1908

Fellow Citizens:

The campaign is drawing to a close; the issues have been set forth in the platforms; the arguments of the candidates have been presented; and the verdict is about to be rendered. Every state in the Union shows Democratic gains, and there is no doubt of a Democratic victory if all who favor our policies vote and have their votes counted. I write to urge you to see to it that every Democratic vote in your precinct is polled early and counted. We need a popular majority as well as a majority in the electoral college, and your vote is needed to offset a Republican vote some where else, even if not needed in your locality. Work! Vote! And then you can rejoice the more heartily in the victory.
